

Gene Surber

Surber resides in Belgrade, Montana. He attended Montana State University, received his B.S. in Agricultural Sciences and M.S. in Animal Science. After more than 30 years of service with MSU Extension Service he retired and now is a Professor Emeritus with the MSU College of Agriculture and has his own business where he does contract consulting dealing with the management of Natural Resources associated with Livestock and Wildlife as well as coordinating the MT Ag Safety Program for eight agricultural organizations in Montana.